Leonardo Da Vinci

With the recent completion of Leonardo Da Vinci's great painting of the Last Supper in the Convent of Santa Maria delle Grazie this is great time to look back at some of the man's greatest creations. Leonardo Da Vinci is a well known inventor and painter who lives here in our very own Milan. Throughout his life he has painted a number of well known paintings and he has also designed many creative, new, and revolutionary inventions.

Throughout his life Leonardo Da Vinci has been a revolutionary artist that has experimented with many new artistic styles. His obsession with the effects of light, shadow, perspective, and the materials used gives his paintings the beauty and accuracy that he is known for.

His great expertise and creation of beautiful paintings, such as The Baptism of Christ, The Adoration of the Magi, and the Madonna of the rocks, have allowed him to create what could be the most beautiful and influential painting ever created, The Last Supper. This new creation ordered by the Duke is sure to draw people from around the world into Milan in order to see the masterpiece.

Leonardo's Inventions

Though Leonardo is more well known for his beautiful paintings such as those stated earlier in this paper he is also an incredible inventor. He has invented many uncreated and seemingly out of this world inventions such as the flying machine on the left. Along with the flying machine he has also invented many military devices that have yet to be completed. Among these are the 33-barreled organ, which is a cannon that has 33 individual small barreled cannons.

Leonardo also seems to have an obsession with flight. He has invented another flying machine that differs from the winged machine on the left. This machine uses thin wooden blades spinning in opposite directions in order to lift the machine. Along with these two flying machines he has also invented a device to slow down falls. He calls it a parachute and it is a large piece of cloth tied to your body that opens up when you fall, which slows you down. We can't wait to see what he invents next.

Exploration

Ever since the recent discovery of the Americas by Christopher Columbus has sparked a major interest in exploration. Since the discovery of the New World in 1492 many explorers and others have begun to travel to the New World in order to find new lands, trade routes, and riches. Many countries are racing to stake their claim in the New Land to gain territory, create colonies, and find riches. In this article we will tell you about some of the recent discoveries and explorations around the world.

On July 8 of last year Vasco da Gama set out on his quest to reach India by sailing around the southern tip of Africa. On November 18 he reached the Cape of Good Hope (the southern tip of Africa). By November 22 he became the first man who rounded the Cape of Good Hope and continued on his quest to reach India. He finally arrived in Calcutta, India ten days ago on May 20. His expedition has discovered new sea routes to travel. This trend of exciting exploration does not seem to be subsiding because Christopher Columbus is setting off on his third voyage to the Americas today. We cannot wait to see what comes out of these explorations.
